Edward Nissen Fatally Injured When Struck by Automobile on Route 45

Funeral of Well Known Farmer Held Yesterday at Wadsworth

Edward W. Nissen, 58, employed on the Warren Shea farm near Hickory Corner, was killed instantly while walking on Rte 45 near the state line at 8 o'clock Sunday evening when he was struck by a car driven by John Prince of Bristol, Wis.

Prince informed deputy sheriffs that he was driving north on Rte. 45 and did not see Nissen until it was too late to avoid him.

The coroner's verdict Monday was that death was the result of "multiple severe injuries accidentally received when struck by a northbound 1949 Nash car while walking north on Highway 45 two feet from the east edge of the concrete at a point one-half mile south of the state line at 8 p. m.

Mr. Nissen was born Sept. 7, 1891 in Newport township on Edwards rd., where he had spent his life as a dairy farmer. He was the son of Peter and Annie Nissen, now deceased. His wife, Margaret, died two years ago. He is survived by his sister, Miss Etta Nissen.

The funeral service was held yesterday at the St. Patrick Catholic church in Wadsworth, with burial at St. James cemetery in Kenosha.

The program will start off with a parade in which the bugle and drum corps of Waukegan and North Chicago will take part. The 40 and 8 engine and a float from Zion will be entered in the parade which will start at the grade school and end at the Legion hall.

Antioch firemen have been asked to post themselves along the line of march to honor Harry Kefe, district commander, a volunteer fireman at his home village of Gurnee.

Business of the meeting will be the reports on the national convention. Other reports will be cut short because Cmdr. Kefe will not have had time to call a meeting of the district's 22 commanders to make his appointments and include them in a directory.

New St. Peter's School Opens With 207 Pupils

After two delays the new St. Peter's parochial school will open Monday with an enrollment of 207.

The heating system was placed in operation Tuesday and the sewer connection which has been the principal cause of delay was completed yesterday.

This week will be spent mostly in organization of classes and getting started.

Sister Clare Ellen is the nun in charge and she has a staff of four others.

Dedication of the new building will take place next month. Plans had been made to open the school today, but the decision to close during Mayor Bartlett's funeral caused the school authorities to move the opening day over to Monday.

Sequoits Start Scrimmage For Game With Barrington; Twenty-five on Frosh Squad

The Antioch High school football squad settled down to work this week in preparing for the opening game of the season her against the conference champions, Barrington Friday night, Sept. 23.

Twenty-five freshman have turned out for training under Coach Warren Polley. They probably will have their first game against Northbrook in two or three weeks.

Grass Lake Citizens to Discuss Tax Increase at Meeting Next Thursday

Citizens of Dist. 36, Grass Lake school, have been asked to assemble at the school building at 8 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 22, when they will discuss the advisability of raising the tax rate to permit the school to qualify for additional state aid.

A decision to call this meeting followed a meeting last Friday night at the school in which Frank Ballwanz, clerk of the district school board, outlined proposed plans of operation of the school for the coming year.

The school this year has 89 pupils in contrast to 103 last year. Forty-three pupils have transferred to the St. Peter's parochial school lightening the burden on the school which would have had to employ four teachers instead of the three now hired.

The report brought out the problems facing the school board caused by past indebtedness, and listed the economics of the past year.

Those present held the opinion that another meeting should be held at which more patrons of the school could be present and next week's meeting was planned.

Gresens Heads Polio Fund Emergency Drive; County Has 64 Cases

Schools, Churches, Theatres and Public Asked to Give Extra

An emergency drive headed by Edward Gresens, Sr., of 1050 Bishop dr., to raise money in the Antioch area for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, rolled past the $300 mark Tuesday and is striving for a much larger amount before the campaign comes to an end Saturday.

Gresens, who succeeds Roy Kulfalk as the local director, has a special interest in the emergency campaign because his son, Ralph, was stricken and recovered from polio.

Himself confined to a wheel chair because of a fractured leg Gresens, a local manufacturer is conducting his campaign from his home.

Gresens said that the public schools had responded well to the emergency appeal and that $76.52 had been received from the grade school, $67 from the high school and $50 from the outlying rural schools.

"We placed 75 containers around in business places and are asking donations in the theatres," said the director. The churches have been asked to give and the new parochial school is yet to be solicited.

Tables on the downtown street were set up last weekend and will be used again Saturday in soliciting money for the fund.

The emergency drive was launched last week and will end Saturday as a part of an effort to raise $14,500,000 nationally to take care of increased expenditures due to the greatly increased number of cases.

Lake county has 64 cases and there have been four deaths. A ray of hope was shed from St. Therese hospital this week when it was announced that the new miracle medicine aureomycin had got results in a number of cases, one of which was a 6-year-old boy suffering from the deadly bulbar type of polio.

Gifts may be sent to Gresens or to the Antioch postmaster.

Contributions Received For Scout House Upkeep Show Hearty Response

Letters seeking contributions to a fund maintaining the Antioch Scout house have been sent out and the returns show a hearty response at the start.

Antioch does not have a community chest and as the result organizations such as sponsors of scout organizations must make private appeals.

Birkhead, Mrs. Marian Rigby, Mr. C. R. Kaufman, Mr. Ted Poulos, Lloyd B. Miller, Mr. Ellis Story, Chas. M. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ferris.

The firm has put down floor coverings at St. Peter's school and the Lotus school.

Mayor George B. Bartlett, Age 76, Dies; Funeral Service at 2 p. m. Today Largely Attended; Business Places, Schools Close

GEORGE B. BARTLETT

(EDITORIAL)

Antioch has lost one of its most valued citizens—George B. Bartlett, president of the village board.

His was a life devoted not only to his family but to the whole community. His 25 years of service as president of the village board, his 30 years as township treasurer, 26 years as assistant cashier of the Antioch State bank, several years as member of the school board mark him as outstanding in public affairs unduplicated by others.

He had high standards and strong convictions, but he was always respectful of the convictions of others, and took them into consideration when enforcing the duties of his private or public office.

His endeavors for the welfare of Antioch cannot be questioned. During his administration he braved the criticism of many in effecting public improvement which today the community boasts as being progressive. At the same time he was as conservative in the spending of public funds as though they were his own, and as the result, Antioch during recent years has been pointed out as a village that lives within its means with its finances out of the red.

President Bartlett had definite plans for the future. He will never get to see the city hall completed, but he considered such a privilege secondary to saving money for the taxpayers by waiting. Many consider it folly when he obtained the land east of the Soo line as a public park, but that opinion has changed and coming generations will be blessed by its playgrounds. He insisted in recent months on a park fund which is allowed through taxation and looked forward to its use in improving park lands to give children a place to play. He was happy when the Scout House was given and furnished; he rejoiced when the village was given land recently for a park.

Seated forever in his mind is exceedingly valuable information that the village could well use and which was never put on paper. He knew the village and its citizens as no other, and he had at an instant such information about Antioch as the village board needed from time to time. It was his vast store of knowledge that made him so valuable and caused friends to persuade him to run again for office last April when he preferred to retire.

Antioch will miss George B. Bartlett. It will miss his aid to worth while public affairs. It will miss his wise counsel and the depth of his experience.

He cannot be replaced and it will be difficult to find a worthy successor.

Arlington Farms Polo Team to Seek Revenge Against Army All-Stars

The Arlington Farms polo team will be seeking revenge for its lone home defeat of the season when it tangles with the powerful Army All-Stars at Arlington Farms, Buckley rd., at Rte. 63, Sunday at 3 p. m.

Army defeated Arlington 12 to 7 early in the season after the Libertyville club had rung up a string of 14 straight victories over a two year span.

Col. Harry Wilson was the bright individual star for the Army club in the first meeting turning in one of the greatest exhibitions ever seen at the Arlington field as he led his team with seven goals.

Col. Wilson will be returning to Arlington with a strengthened club as a result of his arranging for Col. L. T. Smith, the top player in the service to play with his team.

The Army club is not sponsored by the Army, but is composed of individual officers who like to play polo, but who are no longer mounted by the Army because of the elimination of horses in favor of mechanized units.

Vandals Spray Grease on Cars
The Antioch garage was broken into last weekend and two cars sprayed with grease, Herman Rosling, proprietor informed sheriff's deputies. They also ransacked a truck and shifted equipment. The police believe it was the work of juveniles.

(Leaders in the community voiced the sentiment of others in words of tribute to the memory of George B. Bartlett, late mayor of Antioch. Because of limited space they must speak for the many groups that are affected by his demise.)

The Rev. Roberts J. Ehrgott, pastor of Saint Ignatius church said at the funeral service:

"It is not the custom of the Episcopal church to have a eulogy of the deceased at the funeral, except in the case of ecclesiastics and prominent citizens, for we do not wish to make the loss doubly hard by touching on the emotions. We let the words of Holy Scripture contained in the Burial Office of the Book of Common Prayer speak for us. But George Brown Bartlett was a pioneer and first citizen of the Village of Antioch, therefore, it is most fitting (Continued on page 4)

Raymond Borregard, 54, Killed in Waukegan Car Crash, Well Known Here

Raymond J. Borregard, 54, Waukegan contractor, who was well known in Antioch, was killed and his wife seriously injured when their car was struck by a large truck at the intersection of Belvidere rd. and Skokie highway at 3 a. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Borregard who was driving, made a left turn in front of the northbound truck during a fog while she and her husband were returning home from a party at the Nite Cap where a party was given for the owner, Marion Miller.

Mrs. Borregard suffered a fractured skull and a broken arm. She is the daughter of the late Sine Laursen, and a sister of Lillian Gray, Mrs. Walter Hills and Arthur Laursen of Antioch and Mrs. Eilele Dondert of Zion, formerly Mrs. Alma Harden.

Mr. Borregard was in an accident nine years ago in which he suffered fractures of both arms and both legs.

The funeral service of Mr. Borregard will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at 1421 Washington St., Waukegan with burial at the Northshore Garden of Memories.

Mrs. Borregard is recovering from her injuries according to latest reports.

Village Board President Had Served 25 Years; Was Township Treasurer

End Came After 2 Weeks of Illness; Was Caused by Cerebral Hemorrhage

Business places, schools and other institutions closed from 1 to 3 p. m. today as the community joined in paying respects to George B. Bartlett, 76, president of the village board and treasurer of Antioch township who died at 5:30 a. m. Tuesday.

His funeral was held at 2 p. m. at the Strang funeral home with the Rev. Roberts Ehrgott of the Episcopal church officiating. Sequoit lodge A. F. and A. M. conducted the commitment service at the grave in Hillside cemetery.

The community was shocked when word came from Victory Memorial hospital that Mayor Bartlett had died. He had been ill for about two weeks complaining of severe head pains, which he thought were temporary.

A week ago Monday when they did not subside, his physician had him taken to the hospital. Two days later he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and lapsed into unconsciousness, from which he did not rally.

Mayor Bartlett was a veteran among Lake county village presidents. He was re-elected to office last spring by a substantial majority while other villages were choosing younger men.

His great value to the village lay in his complete and thorough knowledge of the village and its history and was able to apply it at meetings of the board of trustees.

Served 25 Years
As a private citizen with no political ambition, Mr. Bartlett in 1922 was urged to take office when the village was $10,000 in debt, and with the exception of two years has served in that office ever since, a total of 25 years.

As the result of his pay-as-you-go policies the village has in recent years had surpluses rather than deficits.

Born in Somersetshire, England, June 11, 1873, son of the late Walter and Julia Bartlett, George B. Bartlett was 12 years of age when he came to the United States and made his home with his uncle, George Brown of Antioch.

He began life as a farmer, but soon turned to teaching and received his training for that vocation at Marion (Ind.) Normal school and at Fulton, Ill.

His interest in public schools was outstanding, and the first meeting to organize the Antioch Township High school, was held in his home. He taught in the public schools of Lake County eight years.

He served as a member of the board of directors of the Antioch grade school for several terms starting in 1900, and continued his interest in the schools of the community throughout his life.

Mr. Bartlett was a man of great capacity. He was a rural mail carrier for several years and following his work as teacher he became assistant cashier at the Antioch State bank, retiring in 1931 after 26 years of service.

He was married June 29, 1912 to Miss Lilly Johns of Chicago in that city. She survives as do a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Stott, and two sons, Clayton and George W. Bartlett, all of Antioch.

A brother, Edward, resides at Lake Villa, and a brother, Ernest, and a sister, Mrs. Mabel Davis, reside in England.

Mr. Bartlett was a member of Sequoit Masonic lodge No. 827 of Antioch.

Tragic Story

Socialism always creates far worse problems than those it is supposed to solve. As an instance of this, witness Britain's experience with her socialized coal mines.

A Scripps-Howard correspondent, writing from London, states that production and profits under socialism are increasing at a snail's pace. Britain probably will not meet this year's coal production quota set for her under the Marshall Plan. And the small gains she has made have cost so much that British coal is being priced out of world markets.

Labor is particularly disillusioned. Morale and discipline is poor, and general unrest and absenteeism are prevalent. Wildcat strikes cost England over a million tons of production last year. Fewer and fewer new workers are being recruited. The government has spent huge sums of money in order to put American methods of coal production into effect, yet the output per man has barely reached the pre-war level, when practically all the work was done with the pick and shovel.

By contrast, America's soft coal mines, where private enterprise still prevails, produce about six times as much per man day as the nationalized British industry—due principally to advanced mining methods. The American miner earns more than twice as much as his British counterpart, and is the aristocrat of industrial labor the world over.

Socialism may be an engaging theory. But it's a horse of a different color in practice. It saps the vitality, the strength, and the economic resources of any people. The British coal mines are just part of that tragic story.

Last Mile

Herbert Hoover, the only living ex-president of this nation, has warned that we are blissfully driving at top speed down the back road to collectivism. He said: "We are on the last mile—you must give it thought."

Collectivism is the most insidious of all economic diseases—it can make fatal headway before the victim knows just what is happening. It begins with excessive taxation which, in effect, confiscates much of the savings and earnings of the people. And it is always advanced by appealing schemes whereby the government will assume more and more responsibility for the "welfare" of each individual, and more and more power is concentrated in the grasping hands of an expanding bureaucracy.

That, as Mr. Hoover said, is precisely what is happening here. We are carrying onerous taxes and, in spite of them, we are running huge governmental deficits. Every effort to reduce the cost of government, and to do away with waste and duplication and overlapping of bureaus and administrators, is met with fierce resistance.

Then, following the collectivist pattern, we are being sold the "welfare state." If the highest officials of our government have their way, we shall be forced to accept an enormously costly scheme for compulsory government health insurance—which is a polite phrase for political medicine. We shall have cradle-to-the-grave "Social Security." Individual responsibility and reliance will become things of the past. We shall pay for these doubtful blessings to the tune of tens of billions.

So we have come to the last mile. The greatest question of the day is whether we shall have the courage to stop in time.

Enrollment at University To Be 1,000 Lower This Year, Housing Still Bad

Urbana-Champaign, Ill., Sept. 8.—Classes will convene Sept. 22, on the main campus of the University of Illinois following Freshman Week Sept. 15-21, and registration.

Enrollment is expected to be about 1,000 below the 19,000 all-time record here a year ago, although there may be an increase in the number of new students at the graduate level.

The decrease will come in advanced undergraduate ranks, particularly among veterans, who have been following accelerated programs in order to "catch up" on time spent in the armed services. During the past 12 months the University has conferred more than 6,100 degrees.

Faculty housing continues to be the No. 1 "bottleneck" in the U. of I. program, although 30 new University-built houses and two apartment buildings will be ready for occupancy in early October.

Housing for student women is improved with a new residence hall to be occupied by more than 500 co-eds. For graduate students a 106-unit apartment project is scheduled for completion before Oct. 1. For men the situation is "tight," though quarters in rooming houses and private homes can be found. For the first time since the war, the ice rink and west hall of Memorial Stadium will not be used for men's dormitories.

In addition to the Women's Residence hall, the new electrical engineering and mechanical engineering laboratories will be in full use. Still under construction but available for limited use will be the new chemistry and chemical engineering laboratory.

Returning students will find a simplified registration system which eliminates about 80 percent of the usual "filling-in" of registration data.

Set Oct. 1 for Rural Youth State Meeting At State University

The first fall conference to be held for Illinois Rural Youth since 1941 is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 1, at the University of Illinois, Urbana.

Included on the program, which is being planned as a kick-off for the fall and winter Rural Youth program, will be help on subject matter and methods of presenting educational features; discussion period on music, drama, folk and sports festivals; and a recreational clinic period.

Also included in the plans for the day are a session on Rural Youth activities, such as community service, annual meetings and banquets, other state activities, and district national meetings. A group will discuss how these activities help make a strong county program.

Miss Claretta Walker, state Rural

Youth leader, says that the noon meal will carry some "better banquet" procedures which should help the young people prepare for their own later on. Registration will run from 9:30 to 10:00 a. m. DST on the third floor of the Illini Union building.

Final session in the afternoon will be recreation for practice and fun.

Valuable Pet Dogs Around Channel Lake Die From Poisoning Last Two Wks.

Residents of Linden lane around Channel lake are quite upset over the poisoning, accidental or intentional, of at least a half dozen valuable pet dogs and some pet rabbits through poisoning.

It was a slow death in each instance for the dog, its sickness lasting a week. Veterinarians G. W. Jensen and C. P. Tossey, of Antioch; Suter of Waukegan and Bailey of Libertyville are said to have agreed that death was from poisoning.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Kelly lost a registered fire-haired terrier; the Henry Conrads a cocker spaniel; the L. Moselys a fox terrier; the Harry Arndts and the Vanderlesters other types of animals and the Berney Thompsons two prized white rabbits.

The kind of poison used was not known by the owners.

Maypole Breaks Hip

Harry A. Maypole, former mayor of Fox Lake, suffered a fracture of one hip last Friday when about to leave Grant hospital, Chicago, where he had been a patient. He will be in the hospital about two months.

THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to all my friends for the many lovely cards, messages, flowers and gifts I received during my stay in the hospital.

Anne Heath

Wm. Setek, Jr., returned this week from a week's visit with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roosbach at St. Paul, Minn., while there he attended the Minnesota State Fair.

Tribute to Geo. Bartlett...

that we should recall some aspects of a life dedicated to the service of humanity, without adding to the grief we already bear at his demise. (A biographical sketch was read at this point)

Most of you know these facts and more; I only repeat them to emphasize what I should like to say about George Bartlett; he had a sense of stewardship —each capacity in which he acted was to him a trust which he successfully filled to the best of his considerable ability. He devoted his entire life to the service of his fellow men, without seeking reward or even praise. All that he did for his community was on a volunteer basis, for his responsibilities also lay in other directions—that of father of a family, and in the field of business. The newspaper called Mr. Bartlett 'a man of great capacity'... his devotion to the community, his raising so fine a family, his leadership, are examples of consecration.

Would that we had more leaders like George Bartlett! The world cries for men who will give of themselves in order to raise and maintain the standards of the world in which they live. We need that same spirit again today... that of consecration, loyalty, and devoted self-sacrifice.

Otto S. Klass (member of Antioch Township board of trustees)—"From my contact with Mr. Bartlett I always have found him deeply interested in civic affairs. I admired him for his convictions."

Lions Club (William Brook, president)—"Mr. Bartlett was a charter member of the Lions club. We never found a man who was any more cooperative and public spirited than he in his position as village president. He was wholeheartedly for any and worthwhile project."

E. J. Sletten, (cashier First National bank)—"Antioch has suffered a great loss. Mr. Bartlett was a credit to the village. He was a good conscientious administrator, and his integrity was unquestionable."

William Brook, cashier Antioch State bank—"There are only three in this bank who were here as employees when Mr. Bartlett was with us. They are my father, J. E. Brook, Mrs. Bernice Heisser, and Mrs. R. J. Webb. They and the rest of us know his value to the bank and to the community in general from personal contacts. He will be greatly missed."

Fr. F. M. Flaherty, pastor of St. Peter's church—"I knew President Bartlett for 18 years. He was an extraordinary administrator and tried hard, as far as I can see, to be just, having no special interest in any one special project."

G. Richard Tuttle, pastor of the Methodist church—"Mr. Bartlett was a forthright man. I only wish we had more men of his calibre who will be willing to devote as much time and energy to public service as he has done."

T. R. Birkhead, principal of the Antioch Township High school—"Mr. Bartlett was one of the people responsible for the organization of the high school in 1915. Since that time he has been directly connected with the school, and for the past several years has been township treasurer, handling all funds expended by the school. Because of his long and faithful service we feel a debt of gratitude to him and feel that the school has indeed lost a good friend."

Serving as pall bearers were James McMillen, fire chief; Art Rosenfeldt and Art Hawkins, of the board of trustees; Walter I. Scott, and William Thiemann of the police and administrative force and Herman Holbek, captain of the Rescue squad.

This Week's Bible Verse—

Ye shall not fear them: for the Lord your God, He shall fight for you. Deut. 3:22.
This text was used by Abraham Lincoln in an oration on June 9, 1864.

Measure of a Man—

Not—How did he die?
But—How did he live?
Not—What did he gain?
But—What did he give?
These are the units
To measure the worth
Of a man as a man,
Regardless of birth.
Not—What was his station?
But—Had he a heart?
And—How did he play
His God-given part?
Was he ever ready
With a word of good cheer,
To bring back a smile,
To banish a tear?
Not—What was his church?
Not—What was his creed?
But—Had he befriended
Those really in need?
Not—What did the sketch
In the newspapers say?
But—How many were sorry
When he passed away?
—Author Unknown

Whew!

To retire on an annual income from investment that will buy as much as $3,000 did in '29, a young man today needs to earn more than $13,000 a year, for 25 years—Jas. H. McGraw, in McGraw-Hill publications.

Before Texas—

Back in the 1870's a clerk, waiting for a horsecar in Washington, picked up a woman's hairpin from the pavement and idly twisted it in his hands. Glancing at his haphazard manipulations, he was struck by one of these flashes of inventive inspiration. He saw in the wire curls a simple gadget that would hold papers together. He patented his idea—a common wire paper clip, forerunner of the one that is used in the billions today. For the life of his patents, 34 years, he received generous royalties. No one knows just how much—but millions at least.

For Girls Only—

FOR A DUTCH TASTE—Dutch have a way with potato soup that makes it really something special. To this hearty favorite they add bits of bacon—one-inch pieces that have been panfried, but lightly. Occasionally, too, they saute diced green pepper with the bacon and add to the soup.

Mix a little soda with salt and sprinkle it on top of your precious roast. It will help to keep the meat from shrinking.

LEFT-OVER EGG YOLKS—To keep left-over egg yolks until they can be used, place them in a dish or cup and add just enough cold water to cover.

Quips—

The cycle goes somewhat like this: When the sales agent insults you and tells you he hasn't got any—it's war time. When he just insults you—it's transition. When he merely says he hasn't got any—reconversion is under way. And when you can tell him to go straight to that very well-heated community—that, brother, is normalcy.

This Week's Quizzer—

• "Service Supreme."
What is service "Supreme"? Webster's dictionary defines "Supreme" as "Highest in place"
"Highest in degree"
"Complete"
"Utmost"
"Greatest possible."
These definitions so completely lay cover our aims and purposes that we know of no better word to describe our services than "A supreme service."

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads; but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition; they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

"... It is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act..."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

Ducks Arrive Early on Mississippi River and May Come Here Early

Ducks may arrive early this year in the Chain O' Lakes region. According to reports from Prairie du Chien, Wis., the fowl has already arrived on the Mississippi river bottom lands by the thousands. There are more ducks there already than were seen there all last fall, Lyman Howe, editor of the Courier, says.

It is believed that the sloughs in the Dakotas have dried and the birds are seeking a plentiful supply farther south.

Bob Becker, Chicago, denies there is a drouth in the Dakotas and says the sportsmen's must look for other reasons.

Wausau Dog Wins
Mully Gully Goo, a black Labrador owned by John Sturdevant of Wausau, Wis., and handled by Orin Benson of Eagle, Wis., won the field trials at Butler lake, Libertyville, conducted by the American Chesapeake Bay club. Sixty-two dogs competed.

Communities Get More Public Aid Authority

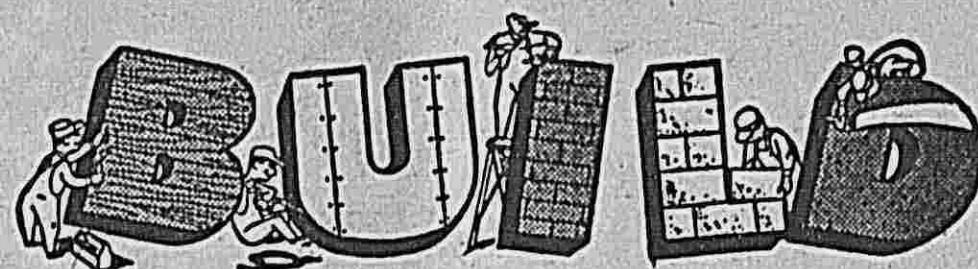

The new public assistance code passed by the 66th General Assembly gives local communities more authority in the handling of Illinois public aid commission welfare work, according to Carl K. Schmidt, Jr., IPAC executive secretary.

Under the new code local advisors to the commission are to be selected from recommendations made by county boards of supervisors or commissioners. These advisors, composing county welfare service committees, will replace the present public aid advisory committees. Members of the advisory committees were selected directly by the public aid commission.

Miss West's School Gives First Program in Camp Lake Buildings

In the presence of 200 guests the pupils in Miss Edna West's private tutoring school at Camp Lake, Wis., gave a program of songs and recitations Sunday afternoon, Sept. 4. The guests, relatives of the children, and a number of Camp Lake residents, remained for a picnic supper. They had opportunity to see an exhibit of the work of the children done during the school year in the annex to the school which is housed in a former hotel building.

Record Production of Oldsmobile Fails To Keep Pace With Sales

All monthly production records for the past 52 years were shattered at Oldsmobile division when the last new Oldsmobile produced in August, rolled off the assembly line Wednesday, S. E. Skinner, vice-president of General Motors Corporation and general manager of Oldsmobile announced today.

A total of 31,095 new Futuramic Oldsmobiles were built last month, Mr. Skinner stated. This record monthly output surpassed the previous top mark of 28,445 units built in March, 1941. A new daily average record of 1,351 cars per working day was also set, Mr. Skinner said, thus providing Oldsmobile dealers across the nation with more new cars for delivery than ever before in the history of America's oldest motor car manufacturer.

"The record month of production at Oldsmobile places this Division that much nearer an all-time record in output for the model year," Mr.

Skinner said. "During the past month Oldsmobile Division produced its 200,000th 1949 model, marking the first time in the post-war period that this goal was reached. Maintenance of the present rate of output means that this Division will produce approximately 300,000 six and eight-cylinder cars this year, thus setting an all-time record.

Despite all-out efforts to keep pace with demand for new Oldsmobiles, particularly the Series "88" and "98" models equipped with the new high-compression "Rocket" engine, Oldsmobile production is still trailing sales, Mr. Skinner said. He pointed out that 63 per cent of the total August production was devoted to new Oldsmobile powered by the sensational new eight-cylinder "Rocket" engine introduced by Oldsmobile Division a year ago this month.

"As far as this Division of General Motors Corporation is concerned, we have not experienced any 'softening' of the market to date. On the contrary, demand is so insistent for all three series of Oldsmobiles, including the Series '76' model with the Big Six engine, that we are now expanding the capacity of our 'Rocket' engine plant, building a new final assembly plant, and increasing our working force to take advantage of the gratifying upsurge in demand for our product."

PRICE CONSCIOUS?

Look at this!

MATCHED against the field, those figures make news.

Matched against what they cover—they're an urgent hint for instant action.

Because that sum puts in your garage—
STYLE that's as fresh as a dew-laden daisy, from those brand-new non-locking bumper-guard grilles to the double-bull's-eye taillights.

SIZE that's mighty handy in traffic, a real relief in modest-size garages, a wonderful aid in parking.

ROOM that rates right up at the top—with inches added to all rear seat cushions, a full foot more hiproom in 4-door Sedans.

POWER that is lively, frugal, ever-thrilling because it comes from a high-compression, high-pressure Fireball straight-eight.

A RIDE we'll put against anything else you can find, regardless of price—soft, pillowy, gentle. We call it matchless because we think you will too.

HANDLING? Well, this price is the price on a Buick SPECIAL with finger-flick Synchro-Mesh transmission—as light and easy as you'll find on any non-automatic-drive car.

But a few more dollars per month will also give you the silken luxury of Dynaflow Drive—the soft, easy, restful drive the very biggest Buicks boast.

Go learn more from your Buick dealer. Sure as sunrise, you'll make up your mind to buy this one.

Pretender

Fights for Afghan Throne

KARACHI, INDIA — Tension between Afghanistan and Pakistan is tightening as a claimant to the Afghan throne continues his attempts to raise an army in the troubled tribal area between the two semi-hostile Moslem nations.

The claimant is Amin Jan, whose brother, Amanullah, vacated the throne in 1929 and now lives in Italy. Amin Jan wants to replace the present king, Zahir Shah, and figures an army might help.

Amin Jan is German-educated and has an English wife. He was arrested in Peshawar following his brother's abdication and was deported by the British to Rangoon. Later he was transferred to the Allahabad Jail. He was released in 1948 and allowed to proceed to Pakistan.

He already had made one start on an expedition to Kabul, Afghanistan's capital. But on reaching the border he found the number of irregulars—Mahsud tribesmen—had dwindled to 30. Amin Jan called the expedition off.

The major result was to stir up a new dispute between Pakistan and Afghanistan, already arguing over control of the tribal belt stretching along the frontier.

Kabul radio complained that Pakistan was backing Amin Jan. Pakistan replied that it had warned the Afghans about his activities and urged tribesmen not to join him. Observers here, however, declare that Pakistan would be pleased to see Amin on the throne.

Truck Drivers Better Read This If They Value Their Jobs

PITTSBURGH — Truck drivers had better read this if they value their jobs—and the lives and property of their fellow man:

Recently, a driver was burning up the Pennsylvania turnpike at a speed well over the limit set by his company for its trucks.

A passenger car followed the giant of the roads. Inside, the driver looked at his speedometer and switched on a movie camera. His speed and that of the truck were recorded on film.

As the truck swung out of lane on a curve the camera caught it. The load shifted, too. Later, the truck driver did a sloppy job of parking at a lunchroom. When he resumed his trip, he failed to switch on his running lights. He was having a bad night.

But he had a worse morning. Called into the office, he was charged with a list of violations as long as his arm. Perhaps he tried to deny them. In any event, he saw a movie and he was the star.

If his record with the firm was good, he was warned, suspended a few days, perhaps, and returned to duty. If he'd been on the carpet before, he was fired outright.

The movie, of course, was filmed from the passenger car which followed the errant truck driver for a few miles. The car and camera were operated by a private highway patrol serviceman, one of many who work throughout Pennsylvania.

Safety-minded trucking companies all over the state are employing the patrol services to catch the careless or dangerous driver. It cuts down accidents, reducing insurance and repair costs. The drivers, becoming aware of the camera cars, are playing safe. Trucking accidents have been cut tremendously, according to the companies.

15 Million Hens Give Bakers Two Trillion Eggs a Year

CHICAGO—The bakers of America keep approximately 15,500,000 average hens busy each year providing the 2,706,000,000 eggs used in baking enriched bread and other bakery products, according to the American Bakers' association.

About 225,500,000 dozen or 300,000,000 pounds of eggs are purchased from the American farmer annually, the association pointed out, explaining that the baking industry is the farmer's biggest industrial customer.

The bakers' purchases of flour, milk, cane and beet sugar and other farm products total close to a billion dollars annually.

It's Not What Happened—It's What Might Have

VENICE, FLA.—A blowout while driving along a highway near here gave D. A. Leach, 23, some pretty bad moments, and he still shudders at the thought of what happened—or what might have happened.

The blowout caused Leach's car to swerve, hit a palm tree, nose into a road bank, flip completely over—and land upright on its wheels.

Bystanders helped him change the tire and Leach continued on his way, none the worse for his experience—but a lot wiser.

Feeding proteins and carbohydrates by vein has long been a customary practice but the calories administered have been limited in number. By feeding fat intravenously it is possible to give the patient an amount needed by the body for the gradual return to health.

Butterfat, long recognized as an excellent source of energy, now can be used to provide nourishment by vein. Containing two and a quarter times the caloric value of carbohydrates, the fat must be emulsified or broken up into tiny particles to prevent embolism.

Commenting on the new development, Milton Hult, President of NDC, stated: "Since fat is a concentrated source of energy, the successful development of emulsions of butterfat suitable for intravenous feeding represents an important contribution of nutrition to medicine."

Optimism Shown by State Economists in Report of College of Agriculture

A large number of Illinois farmers are studying business trends very carefully these days. During the next few weeks they must make plans for breeding sows and feeding cattle. If they decide that business prospects are good they will go ahead with plans to increase livestock and meat production. If the situation appears unfavorable, they won't risk so much money.

The State University Bureau of Economic and Business Research is still optimistic. The director of the bureau, Professor V. Lewis Bassie, expects business activity to reach peak levels again in 1950.

Bassie presents facts and figures to support his conclusions. He says that the current "recession" is mostly the result of efforts to cut inventories.

Businessmen generally were afraid of getting caught with large stocks of high-cost goods in a falling market. Retailers were the first to get scared. They cut down on new orders to manufacturers. But stocks kept coming in from orders placed several months before. Piles of merchandise in storerooms and warehouses grew higher and higher. When the old orders were filled, manufacturers closed some of their plants and laid off workers.

Consumers Bought

Most of the workers found new jobs or collected unemployment checks from the government. Unemployment increased only moderately. Consumer incomes remained high. People bought the stuff off retailers' shelves and floors. This continued through the first half of 1949.

In a few months merchants' stocks were reduced considerably. Prices of some lines were cut, but most of the good merchandise sold without sacrifice. As stocks ran low, merchants sent in new orders. Some of the closed factories reopened, and people were called back to work.

This process did not proceed uniformly in all industries. It came early in some industries, such as textiles. It hasn't yet begun in popular makes of automobiles.

Turning Point Reached

Professor Bassie believes we are near the turning point in business activity. Further liquidation will occur in some industries. But this will be offset by renewed activity in others.

As businessmen sold their stocks, they repaid their loans at banks. Business loans dropped steadily from last December until very recently. During the past few weeks they have held steady. This fact indicates that merchants and manufacturers are replacing their stocks. Residential construction is increasing. The number of new houses begun in June was equal to the highest on record. The peak this year came rather late, and that will help to maintain construction activity well into the fall.

Business concerns continue to invest heavily in new buildings and equipment. Robert Ferber, assistant research professor in the bureau believes that such investments now are running even greater than they were a year ago. His conclusions are based on his own analysis of surveys made by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Governments Spend More

Federal, state, and local governments are increasing their expenditures for new construction. Bumper crops of war babies create demands for more schools. Hundreds of new subdivisions bring calls for new streets, sewers, and other public construction. The public demands great new highways and is willing to furnish the money through increased gasoline taxes, etc. During the first half of this year, public construction exceeded corresponding 1948 levels by 37 percent.

Uncle Sam Uses Red Ink

Uncle Sam's budget for the year that began this past July 1 is strongly inflationary. Federal expenditures will probably exceed income by five billion dollars or more. Such a deficit is equal to about one-fifth of the value of all farm products sold by farmers this year. This excess spending by the federal government is expected to more than offset any reductions in private expenditures.

New Boom Ahead

Even though there is a new business boom, we do not expect a corresponding rise in prices of farm products. Any increase in consumer demand will be partly offset by increased supplies of meat, milk, poultry, eggs, and many other farm products. However, a stronger consumer demand would permit farmers to sell increased outputs without much cut in prices.

Buying Onions Complicated When It Comes to Getting Them for Uncle Sam's Army

Buying onions is a comparatively simple operation for the average housewife.

Buying onion, dehydrated, for the U. S. Army, is not a cut and dried process, however, it appears from the June issue of Tax Outlook.

In the estimation of a House Appropriations Committee investigator who traced the vegetables from order to delivery through the maze of army regulations and red tape, it's the reverse of easy.

For investigation showed that from the time the order was placed until more than a month later, 288 separate, complicated steps had to be taken before the Quartermaster General's Office was certain it had the product.

The Q. M. in Washington sent a directive to the Chicago office, which, boiled down, read: "Buy some onions."

That directive was probably the only straight-forward, simple operation in the whole process.

The order was:

Date-stamped, time-stamped, examined, routed, copied, typed, receipted, entered on other documents, underlined, described, and,

Keypunched, card-punched, coded, tabulated, checked, matched, filed, discussed, reviewed, technically, then just plain reviewed, and, Indexed, analyzed, mailed, abstracted, printed, registered, inspected, sorted, noted, stored, transmitted and vouchered.

Messengers handled it 110 times in its trip through 18 subdivisions.

A chart of this laborious process was made for the Committee. Compared to it, splitting the atom looks easy.

When the Army's Quartermaster General was shown it he said, dryly: "A chart of that kind would reflect what appears to be lost motion."

From last reports, he was "having the matter looked into" to see how many steps might be eliminated.

It's anybody's guess how long it will take to "look into" a maze of 288 processes.
